My dear mouse friends,

Have I ever told you how much I love science fiction? I've always wanted to write incredible adventures set in another dimension, but I've never believed that parallel universes exist . . . until now!

That's because my good friend Professor Paws von Volt, the brilliant, secretive scientist, has just made an incredible discovery. Thanks to some mousetropic calculations, he determined that there are many different dimensions in time and space, where anything could be possible.

The professor's work inspired me to write this science fiction adventure in which my family and I travel through space in search of new worlds. We're a fabumouse crew: the spacemice!

I hope you enjoy this intergalactic adventure!

In the darkness of the farthest galaxy in time and space is a spaceship inhabited exclusively by mice.

This fabumouse vessel is called the MouseStar 1, and I am its captain!

I am Geronimo Stiltonix, a somewhat accident-prone mouse who (to tell you the truth) would rather be writing novels than steering a spaceship.

But for now, my adventurous family and I are busy traveling around the universe on exciting intergalactic missions.

THIS IS THE
LATEST ADVENTURE
OF THE SPACEMICE!

A RARE DAY OFF!

It all started early one morning. I woke up feeling FABUMOUSE! Of course I would have loved to stay in bed for another hour or two. In fact, given the chance, I would snuggle under the covers until midday!

What a good night's sleep!

But I was up earlier than usual for a good reason. Oh, I'm so sorry! I almost forgot to introduce myself! My name is Stiltonix, Geronimo Stiltonix, and I'm the captain of the MouseStar 1, the most mouserific spaceship in the universe. (Honestly, though, my secret dream is to be a world-famous writer!)

As I was saying, I had asked my personal assistant robot, Assistatrix, to wake me up early that morning. I was planning to enjoy a rare day off at MouseStar 1's mouserific space beach. Even the captain deserves a little rest and relaxation every once in a while, don't you think?

So I put on my bathing suit instead of my captain's uniform, and I double-checked my bag to be sure I had all the ESSENTIALS . . .

hmmm . . . where were they?

I couldn't find them anywhere!
Where could they be? Oh yes,
how embarrassing!
They were right on top of my head!

I was ready to go.

"Beach, here I come!" I cried happily. Then I opened my cabin door and . . . bang!

I bumped right into my cousin Trap.

“Wow, Cousin!” he said in surprise.

“What are you doing up so early?”

“N-nothing special,” I mumbled quickly.

Trap gave me a look. “Oh, really?” he said skeptically. “Then why are you DRESSED like that?”

“W-well, I w-was . . .” I stuttered.

My cousin pulled one of my FLiP-FLOPS out from the top of my bag.

A RARE DAY OFF!

“Don’t tell me you’re going to the beach without inviting any of your family or friends?!” he said.

Black holey galaxies, he had figured it out! Now what was I going to do? Don’t get me wrong: I really love my cousin. But I had been looking forward to relaxing on the beach all by myself. I wanted to focus on the new book I was writing. With Trap there, I would be forced to play one beach game after another! Sigh.

“Er . . . yes, that’s where I’m going,” I confessed. What can I say? I’m an honest mouse!

“I knew it!” Trap said triumphantly. “But you’ll be so B O R E D there by yourself. You know what? I’ll get my things and come with you!”

TO THE BEACH, EVERYONE!

In the end, Trap was right: A day at the beach is a lot more FUN with good company! So I called my nephew Benjamin; his friend Bugsy Wugsy; and my sister, Thea.

When we went by to pick them up, they were all ready to go.

"Hi, Uncle!" my sweet nephew exclaimed as he jumped into my arms and gave me an enormouse hug. "Thanks for inviting us to go to the beach with you!"

"You're welcome!" I said. "Now we're all here. Let's go!"

TO THE BEACH, EVERYONE!

“Not so fast, Cheesebrain,” a loud voice called. “You weren’t thinking of going to the beach without me, were you?”

It was my grandfather, William Stiltonix, MouseStar 1’s retired admiral (and the former captain of the ship!).

“H-hello, Grandfather,” I stuttered. “I-I thought you hated the beach. You know, the SUN, the space sand—”

“Well, you thought wrong!” Grandfather interrupted me. “Everyone knows the ocean air is good for a mouse my age!”

So we all squeezed into an astrotaxi and sped off toward MouseStar 1’s very own space beach.

I know it sounds impossible, dear reader, but it's true! The lower part of our spaceship is a natural biosphere that contains various habitats: There are very tall mountains, rainforests, lakes, and a wide beach with golden sand by a crystal-clear ocean!

"It's so BEAUTIFUL here!" Thea exclaimed when we arrived at the beach.

"You had an EXCELLENT idea this time, Cuz," Trap proclaimed.

"Yes, an excellent idea, Captain," said a voice behind me.

I turned around to see SALLY DE WRENCH, MouseStar 1's expert in photon circuitry, hyperspace engines, and stellar energy. In other words, she's our ship's technical genius! And she also happens to be the loveliest rodent in the entire galaxy.

"I hope I'm not intruding," Sally continued. "Thea told me you were coming to the beach, so I thought I'd join in the fun."

How nice!

"No, no," I told Sally, turning as red as a space tomato. "It's absolutely no bother at all. It's a pleasure to have you with us!"

"Okay, okay, enough talking!" Trap interrupted us. He was dressed from snout to tail in swimming gear, complete with a mask and fins. "Everybody in the ocean!"

Then he grabbed my paw and pulled me toward the water.

A MYSTERIOUS OBJECT

As you've probably figured out by now, I love the beach. There's nothing better than warm sand under my PAWS and the sun on my fur while I clutch a cheese shake with a floating umbrella in one paw. Ahhhh!

While I enjoy taking a gentle dip in the ocean to cool off, though, there's one thing that's definitely not for me: DIVING! But thanks to my cousin Trap, I found myself at the top of a cliff with the ocean far, far, far below me.

"Come on! JUMP!" Trap said, prodding me from behind.

Sally was watching us from the beach. I didn't want to make a fool of myself.

Jump!

I leaned out a bit to look at the sparkling water. Suddenly, Trap gave me a shove! I flew clumsily off the cliff, belly flopping into the ocean below. Splash!

HOW EMBARRASSING!

When I got out of the water Trap was busy making fun of me.

"What a flop, Cousin," he teased. "Diving is definitely not your forte! Let's play some Frisbix instead.”

“Good idea.” I replied, hoping to make up for my superstellar flop.

But the game turned out to be harder than I thought. I tried to throw the FRISBIX disk along the programmed trajectories, but it kept bouncing off course, flipping around by itself, and getting stuck in the sand!

“Hmm,” Trap said teasingly. “Maybe Frisbix isn’t your forte, either. Maybe you should go help the mouselings build a sand spaceship!”

From the Encyclopedia Galactica

Frisbix is a favorite game of spacemice at the beach or park. To play, mice throw an indestructible disk made of stellar steel along various trajectories programmed into it. The momentum created by the player’s throw determines where and how far the disk flies.

I ignored my cousin and tried throwing the disk again with all my strength. Wooooosh!

Galactic Gorgonzola! I had flung the disk so hard I was sure it would stay on course now.

“See!” I shouted proudly. “Look how FAST that disk is flying!”

Hey, wait a minute — the disk wasn’t stopping!

Help!

It soared over Trap's head, past Grandfather William (who was sleeping in the SUN), and landed right in the sand spaceship that Benjamin and Bugsy Wugsy had just finished building.

What a disaster!

I ran over to the mouselings to apologize. But before I could utter a word, an ear-piercing scream made my FUR stand on end.

A MYSTERIOUS OBJECT

"Ouuuuchhhh!"

When he'd ducked out of the way of the flying Frisbix disk, Trap had stubbed his paw on something in the sand. Sally dug it up to see what it was: a perfectly smooth sphere.

"Hmmm," Sally said as she studied the object, a puzzled expression on her snout. "This looks like an alien object. I'm not familiar with this material . . ."

"Well, why don't we put it aside so nobody else gets HURT?" I suggested.

"Ahem." Thea cleared her throat and stared at me.

"What?" I asked. "I don't want any more injuries, do you?"

Thea rolled her EYES at me.

“Geronimo, you of all mice should know what needs to be done,” she continued. “After all, you’re our captain! We have to follow the rules of the MouseStar 1: When someone finds a foreign object on board, the captain must start an immediate inquiry.”

An inquiry? I was hoping I had misunderstood, but Sally confirmed it.

“It’s true, Geronimo,” Sally said, a serious expression on her snout. “We have to go back to the control room and find out what this strange object is.”

I sighed. It looked like my captain’s duties had followed me to the beach. So much for a relaxing day off!

CONGRATULATIONS, CAPTAIN!

We all headed back to the control room, where we met Professor Greenfur. He's MouseStar 1's official scientist and an expert in alien life-forms.

He immediately began testing the strange sphere.

"Let's start with a photonic scan,"

Professor Greenfur instructed Hologramix, our onboard computer.

illuminated the sphere.

Soon the test results appeared on the control room screen.

Identity: Unknown!

“What?!” Professor Greenfur gasped. “But that’s impossible. Hologramix has always been able to identify a FOREIGN object with a photonic scan.”

“Maybe I can open it with my ultrasonic drill,” Sally suggested.

She tried using her powerful space tool on the sphere, but . . . nothing happened!

Finally, she gave up.

“I’m sorry,” she said apologetically. “It’s made of a very tough material!”

“There’s one last option,” Professor Greenfur said. “Unleash the magnetic storm!”

But even the magnetic storm didn’t work!

Professor Greenfur approached me with a sad look on his snout.

“Captain, I’m sorry to report that we CAN’T figure out what it is!” he said gravely.

“Oh, don’t worry,” I said reassuringly. “You tried your best.”

It was too bad that we hadn’t been able to identify the object. But at least the inquiry was closed and I could go back to my vacation day at the beach!

“Well, I guess that settles it,” I began. I was about to tell everyone they were dismissed when I turned and the floating umbrella that was sticking out of my bag bumped the table the sphere was sitting on.

The sphere fell and hit the floor.

Crash!

Solar-smoked Gouda! That thing had almost crushed my tail!

I went to pick it up and put it back in its place when the sphere sent out a puff of blue smoke. Then the object began to rotate.

My whiskers trembled with fear as the sphere continued to spin. Suddenly, blue markings appeared on its surface and seemed to be forming words and drawings!

After a few seconds, the sphere slowed to a stop. So I braced myself, picked it up, and saw that the INSCRIPTION was still on its surface. The others were still squeaking about ways to open the sphere. They hadn't noticed a thing!

"Um, excuse me," I said slowly, holding out the strange blue sphere. "Look at this!"

But no one was paying attention to me.

"HELLO?!" I squeaked loudly. "The sphere has been activated!"

Everyone turned and stared.

"That's incredible!" Trap exclaimed.

"Unbelievable work, Captain!" Sally said.

"But how did you do it?"

Sally's praise made me blush from the tips of my ears to the end of my tail.

What should we do?

It's been activated!

CONGRATULATIONS, CAPTAIN!

“Well done, Cuz!” Trap said, slapping me on the back so hard I almost lost my BALANCE. “You finally made yourself useful!”

Professor Greenfur took the sphere from my paws and studied it closely.

“These lines . . . two Xs and some numbers . . . H M M M . . .” he squeaked to himself softly.

We waited to hear what he had to say.

“There is no doubt about it,” he announced a moment later. “It’s a map!”

I'M NOT CUT OUT FOR ADVENTURE!

Benjamin came closer, LOOKING excited.

"It's a treasure map, isn't it, Uncle?!" he exclaimed, his eyes bright. "We have to plan an expedition!"

Oh, Benjamin has such an imagination!

"Benjamin, we don't know what it is," I explained carefully. "And even if it is a treasure map, we don't know where it would lead us. It could be very, very dangerous . . ."

"But Professor Greenfur is a fabumouse scientist!" Trap interjected. "I'm sure he can INTERPRET the map for us."

"Why, thank you," the professor replied.

AQUARIX

“And now that you mention it, these numbers might be coordinates from space.”

“That’s an interesting hypothesis,” Thea agreed. “Let’s enter these numbers into the galaxy planetarium map and see what happens.”

A second later, an image of the planet Aquarix appeared on the control room screen. There was a large red X in one spot.

“That’s where the sphere is from!” Professor Greenfur cried. “AQUARIX!”

“But how did it get onto OUR spaceship?” I asked.

“Good question,” Professor Greenfur replied. He pressed a few BUTTONS on MouseStar 1’s control panel computer.

"Ah, I see," he said. "The sand on our beach comes from Aquarix!"

"Then this sphere came on board along with the sand!" Thea explained. "We have to take it back to where it came from."

TAKE IT BACK? Martian mozzarella! Something told me a BiG adventure was looming, and there's nothing I dislike more than adventures!

"B-but 99.99 percent of the surface of Aquarix is covered by water, right?" I pointed out. "So what even exists there?"

"Oh, nothing special," Trap replied. "Just some underwater volcanoes, deep-sea monsters,

Volcanoes?!
Monsters?!
Fur-eating seaweed?!

and some FUR-EATING seaweed.”

W-what? My whiskers trembled with fear. There was no way I was even getting close to that planet! Luckily, I knew we didn't have the right equipment for it.

“Well, that sounds like a really fabumouse adventure,” I fibbed. “It’s just too bad that we don’t have the right underwater navigational system to travel there.”

“Er, Captain?” Sally interrupted. “I actually just finished building an underwater spaceship! This would be the perfect opportunity to test it out, don’t you agree?”

Stinky space cheese! What had I gotten myself into? I couldn’t say NO to Sally: It would be too embarrassing if she knew what a scaredy-mouse I am!

“Y-yes, of course,” I agreed. “I’ll just stay behind on the MouseStar 1 while you go on

From the Encyclopedia Galactica

INTERVIEW: SPACE SUIT

the mission. I have a few CHORES to do anyway.”

“Stellar Swiss, Grandson!” Grandfather William squeaked loudly. “How many times do I have to tell you that the captain always has to be present on discovery missions? You must leave with the others immediately!”

Unfortunately, it’s impossible for me to argue with Grandfather.

“Y-yes, of course,” I stammered. “So . . . hm . . . Thea, Trap, and Sally: Let’s get ready to leave.”

“What about me, Uncle?” Benjamin asked. “Can Bugsy Wugsy and I come on the treasure hunt, too? Pretty please with cheese on top?”

I couldn’t say NO to his SWEET smile. So I sighed and nodded.

A FABUMOUSE DISCOVERY!

And so that's how I found myself traveling to Aquarix in an underwater spaceship with Thea, Sally, Trap, Professor Greenfur, Benjamin, and Bugsy Wugsy. I was trying not to think about the fact that I would soon be underwater. I only like to sit near the ocean, not go UNDER it!

When Aquarix became visible from our porthole, Trap approached me, a bag of crunchy blue cheese crusts in his paw.

"Want some?" he asked as he crunched on a mouthful of the snacks. "They're really good!"

"No, thank you," I replied. "I'm not hungry."

A FABUMOUSE DISCOVERY!

"What's up, Cousin?" Trap asked. "You're awfully quiet. Don't tell me you're scared?!"

"Wh-who me?" I asked, clearing my throat. "Of course not!"

Trap put his arm around my shoulders.

"Look, I was just kidding before about the volcanoes, the monsters, and the fur-eating seaweed," he explained. "Just relax! This treasure hunt will be FUN!"

"Buckle your seat belts!" Thea announced a moment later. She was at the controls. "Prepare to submerge!"

WHOOSH!

With a WHOOSH, the spaceship suddenly sank into the deep waters of Aquarix.

We were all squeakless from the view. We were surrounded by blue water, and the alien fish swimming by had the most unique COLORS and shapes!

“How wonderful!” Sally gasped.

“How bizarre!” Benjamin exclaimed as he pointed to a fish with six eyes.

Meanwhile, Buggy Wugsy was snapping photos.

“These will make a great impression at school when we study water planets!” she explained.

Professor Greenfur checked the map and we began to navigate toward the big X.

The trip was turning out better than I had expected. Sally’s underwater spaceship was so comfortable that I found myself drifting off to sleep in my comfy captain's chair . . .

Suddenly, I awoke with a start.

"That's it! That's it!" Professor Greenfur squeaked. He was pointing to something outside the spaceship.

"What is it?" I asked, still dazed from my little ratnap.

"SUPERBOOST SEAWEED!" Professor Greenfur explained enthusiastically. "It's been a few cosmic years since I saw a specimen.

It's an extremely rare seaweed with exceptional nutritional properties. We absolutely must collect a sample for my research!"

"Of course!" I agreed.

Professor Greenfur

was a true expert in intergalactic Botany, and I knew finding a rare species in a hidden corner of our galaxy was very important to him!

Thea slowly maneuvered our vessel close to the seabed. Then Sally used the ship's external mechanical forceps to pick two tiny sprigs of the precious seaweed. She was very careful not to damage the plant.

A SQUEAKY-CLEAN GETAWAY

A moment later, the entire spaceship began to shake.

“Wh-what was that?” I asked Thea.

“Something seems to have hit us,” my sister explained calmly.

Then a second, stronger TREMOR struck. I lost my balance and almost crashed to the floor of the ship!

“Uncle, what’s going on?” Benjamin asked with a shaky voice.

I looked out the porthole. Holey craters! Enormouse green tendrils were wrapped around the outside of our spaceship!

“Oh no!” Professor Greenfur said desperately. "It's fierce fur-eating seaweed, the deadliest seaweed species in the universe."

Martian mozzarella! We were doomed!

The underwater spaceship continued to shake as we BOUNCED around inside it.

"I thought you told me you were kidding about the fur-eating seaweed!" I yelled at Trap.

"Well, it was meant to be a joke, but I guess I got it right!" Trap shouted.

But my brave, fearless sister didn't back down. Thea tried to break free of the tendrils with a few fancy maneuvers, but the plant's hold on our ship just got tighter and tighter. So Sally used the mechanical forceps to cut pieces of the plant . . . but the more she cut, the more the seaweed grew back and twisted around us!

After a few minutes, we heard some FRIGHTENING sounds:

SCRICK . . . SCREEK . . . SCRAAAAK!

Galactic Gouda! The tightening seaweed was breaking our spaceship apart!

"There's nothing else to do!" Thea explained. "If I BLAST the engines, I might make the situation worse."

"We're running out of time!" Sally exclaimed. "If we don't do something soon, we'll all be seaweed food!"

The next tremor caused an enormous spaceship instruction manual to fall on my head.

BONK!

Ouch! I leaned over to get it, and saw it was open to a page on spaceship maintenance. Not knowing what else to do, I began reading aloud.

“Cleaning the spaceship with stellar soap . . .” I muttered. Of course — soap! “Sally, start the auto-cleaning cycle!”

I crossed my paws and hoped it would work. In less than a second, the spaceship was covered with a special ultra-cleaning soap. The sudsy bubbles made the surface of the spaceship very, very slippery.

The seaweed slipped right off the spaceship. Thea blasted the engines

Ouch!

and we got out of there immediately.

We were free!

We all cheered and hugged.

“Uncle G, you were amazing!”
Benjamin cried.

“It was just luck,”
I said modestly.

Suddenly, the inside of the spaceship was full of Soap bubbles. Giant brushes scrubbed everything from top to bottom, including the crew!

“The auto-cleaning cycle covers both the exterior and the interior of the spaceship,” Sally explained as two enormouse brushes rolled over my fur. Oops! At least it was just soap. Finally, a strong squirt of Warm air dried us off and fluffed our fur.

Thankful to be safe (and squeaky-clean!), we continued with our expedition.

ATTACK OF THE PIRANHAX

I had just leaned back in my chair to relax and admire the underwater scenery outside the porthole window when the control panel began beeping.

BEEP... BEEP... BEEP!

“What’s going on now, Thea?” I asked.

“It looks like we’re heading toward a swarm of . . . something!” she replied.

Sally activated the infrared super-telescope.

“It’s a SWARM of fishoids! And they’re heading toward us!”

My whiskers TREMbled with fear.

“Calm down, Geronimo,” Trap said.

“What could be worse than the fur-eating seaweed?”

Professor Greenfur turned to us, a serious look on his snout.

“Let’s not underestimate the dangers of the underwater world,” he warned us.

Meanwhile, Sally had connected the telescope to the control panel computer screen. A weird alien fish appeared on the screen. It was tiny but had very SHARP teeth!

“I knew it!” the professor exclaimed. “They’re bigteeth piranhax! These fishoid creatures will eat pretty much anything that’s in their way. They are extremely dangerous. We absolutely must avoid them!”

Thea didn't waste ■ second more. With a sudden turn, she wedged the spaceship between some sand dunes. We all held our breath, waiting for the piranhax to pass by. Sally peered through the telescope again.

"Well done, Thea!" Sally cheered. "We lost them!"

We all squeaked with joy.

"Uh-oh," Benjamin said, pointing out the porthole. "Maybe we're celebrating too soon."

Sally aimed the headlights into the abyss ahead, illuminating dozens . . . no, hundreds . . . no, THOUSANDS of hungry PIRANHAX! And they were lined up in a very threatening attack formation!

What had I done to deserve this? All I wanted was a nice, quiet vacation day at the beach. And now I was stuck on an underwater spaceship, about to be eaten alive by alien fishoids!

But as usual, my sister would not give up.

“I’ll show them what I’m made of!” she shouted. “HOLD ON TIIIIIGHT!”

Thea powered up the engines and the spaceship took off. She executed a few very fast and unpredictable maneuvers. There were twists, abrupt stops, and a sudden change of direction. My stomach lurched up and down and from side to side. I thought I was going to toss my cheese!

But every time we thought we had lost them, the piranhax would reappear in hot pursuit.

AN ESCAPE PLAN

After what seemed like the twentieth failed maneuver, Trap was ready to throw in the towel.

“We’ll never lose them,” he groaned.
“They’re too fast!”

But Benjamin suddenly had an idea.

“Wait!” he said. “At school we studied the behavior of sea aliens in a swarm. They will always follow a SINGLE TARGET. If we manage to direct their attention to something else, we might be able to get away!”

“But HOW do we do that?” Bugsy asked.
“We would need a second spaceship.”

“We have the escape pod!” Sally exclaimed.
Then she explained her plan. “We’ll slip behind a rock and then we’ll launch the

AN ESCAPE PLAN

Here's the plan! escape pod. Once the piranhax change course, Thea will accelerate to maximum speed and we'll leave the deadly fishoids behind!"

"Great idea!" Professor Greenfur agreed.

But I was worried.

"If we launch the escape pod, we'll be left without it," I reminded everyone.

"Cousin, do you hear that noise?" Trap asked.

CLICK CLICK CLICK CLICK CLICK

“Yes . . .” I said hesitantly.

“That’s the CLICKING of piranhax teeth!” Trap continued, his squeak getting higher. “Would you rather become fish food?”

“No!” I said, coming to my senses. We didn’t have a choice: We had to sacrifice the escape pod if we wanted to survive!

“Let’s implement the plan!”

“Buckle up, everyone,” Thea said. We took our seats and Thea guided the spaceship as QUICKLY as it would go, squeezing into a NARROW space between two rocks.

The piranhax were disoriented. It was the PERFECT moment to carry out our plan!

Sally launched the escape pod, which shot far away. Thea turned the engines off so the piranhax wouldn't hear us.

In the meantime, I squeezed my eyes shut in fear.

SWISHHHHHHHH!

The sound of the water above our heads could only mean one thing: The swarm of piranhax had rushed past us, following the escape pod! The plan had worked!

MORE TROUBLE!

Once we had escaped, Professor Greenfur consulted the map.

“I have good news,” he told us. “According to the map, we’re halfway there!”

Only halfway? Was he kidding?!

The trip was turning out to be much more DANGEROUS than I had imagined. Our ship had almost been crushed by fur-eating seaweed tendrils, and then a school of deadly piranhax had almost turned us into fish food! Not to mention the fact that we were who-knows-how-far below the surface of the ocean on an alien planet . . .

I shuddered. How could we be just halfway through this fur-raising mission? Maybe focusing on my SWEET nephew

MORE TROUBLE!

Benjamin and his friend Buggy Wuggy would help keep me from panicking.

For a short while, I was able to relax as we played a game of I Spy. But when Sally interrupted us, I knew it was BAD news.

“Captain, we have a problem,” Sally said. Oh no, not again! I did my best to remain cool, calm, and collected.

“What is it?” I asked.

Sally showed me the control dashboard, which was covered in little flashing red lights.

“Take a look for yourself, Captain,” she replied. I stared at the screen, but I was out of my league. I didn’t have a clue what was happening!

“Hmmm,” I murmured sheepishly. “Maybe you can explain it to me.”

“These signals indicate breakdowns that need to be fixed right away,” Sally explained kindly. “Otherwise we won’t be able to continue with the mission!”

Martian mozzarella! Breakdowns? That’s all we needed!

“The spacecraft was weakened by the seaweed tentacles, and the maneuvers to escape the piranhax have made things worse!” Sally continued. “We have to stop as soon as possible to make the repairs.”

Professor Greenfur pointed to a dark

MORE TROUBLE!

Underwater helmet

Navigational backpack
(with minirockets!)

All-purpose,
fix-everything drill

opening in front of us.

“We could take shelter in that underwater cave!” he said.

“Yes — according to radar, it’s empty.” Thea agreed. Then she gently steered our ship into the shelter.

Sally wasted no time. She put on her underwater helmet and grabbed the special navigational backpack (complete with minirockets). And of course she took her all-purpose, fix-everything drill, which was another one of her useful inventions!

At that moment, Trap jumped to his paws.

“I’ll go with you,” he said.

“I really need to stretch my paws! But you should stay here, Cuz. After all, someone needs to keep Benjamin and Bugsy Wugsy company.”

SOLAR-SMOKED GOUDA! Trap was going to make me look like a real wimp in Sally’s eyes. I sighed. Even though I was completely scared to go out and explore that dark cave, I knew I had to do it. Before Sally and Trap were out of the ship, I had pulled on a helmet and a backpack, too.

“Wait for me!” I squeaked. “I’m coming with you!”

THE BELLY OF THE BEAST

The cave was much darker than it had appeared from inside the spaceship. We turned on our helmet headlights, which illuminated the bright red cave walls. I touched one to find that it was strangely soft. It almost felt like a mattress!

Trap was swimming around as if he was on a scuba-diving vacation while Sally was busy fixing the spaceship's external computer SCREEN with her drill.

"Hey, come here, Geronimo!" I heard Trap shout through his helmet microphone. "It's super soft!"

But I couldn't see my cousin anywhere!

Trap?

"I can't find you, Trap . . . It's too dark!" I replied. I tried my best to remain calm, but my teeth were chattering with fright.

"I'm almost done," Sally updated us through her helmet's microphone. "Just another minute."

I turned around so I could start going back toward the mouth of the cave, but it was very DIFFICULT to move through the water in the dark. Somehow, I found myself UPSIDE DOWN!

As if that wasn't enough, a strong current suddenly KNOCKED me over. I grabbed a piece of sea coral and hung on for dear life, hoping I wouldn't be dragged away!

“Everything okay, G?” Trap asked. I was about to answer when I was interrupted by an enmourse roar.

RRRRROOOOAAAARRRR!

Black holey galaxies! What was that? The water around me started churning and I was tossed from left to right. Thank goodmouse I had found that coral to hold on to!

“Come back to the ship right away!” Thea called into our helmets from a microphone in the command room.

“Geronimo!” Trap’s voice squeaked in my helmet. “We have to go!”

“I can’t make it!” I replied. “I’m holding on to some coral and if I let go, I don’t know where I’ll end up!”

“Okay, I’ll come get you!” Trap replied.

A moment later, Trap was at my side. But I still couldn't let go: I was too afraid! So Trap began to PULL ME with all his strength. The more he pulled, the more the cave shook and the louder the scary howl became.

AAAAHHHHUUUUUUU!

Eventually, with all that pulling, the coral I was holding on to snapped. A moment later, we were all floating in the water toward the spaceship. And, strangely, the trembling of the cave and the SCARY howling had stopped!

Once we got back inside the spaceship, we took off our helmets and backpacks.

“Are you ok, Uncles?”
a scared Benjamin asked me and Trap.

“We’re fine,” I assured him. Now that I was back inside, I was feeling a little calmer.
“But we’d better get out of here soon. I don’t want to feel another underwater earthquake in this lifetime!”

“Yes, we should go,” Thea agreed. “And we should do it quickly, because the cave entrance is closing!”

“Wh-what?” I exclaimed. “How can it be c-closing?”

Suddenly, I realized what was happening.

We were not in a cave!

A THORNY ISSUE

Thea pushed the engines to their limits and managed to guide the spaceship out right before the cave entrance — or what seemed to be a cave entrance — snapped shut.

“Are you thinking what I’m thinking?” I asked everyone.

“Yup,” Trap replied. “We just came through some really G I A N T teeth!”

“Then we were in the mouth of a giant sea creature?!” Benjamin asked, incredulous.

“Exactly!” Professor Greenfur confirmed as he glanced back at the giant beast through the porthole. “We were inside an enormous Silverix whale!”

“And why didn’t you let us know this earlier, Professor?” Thea objected, her paws on her hips.

“I didn’t notice,” Professor Greenfur replied. “The whale had perfectly CAMOUFLAGED himself to look like a cave. I imagine he was trying to attract prey!”

“Yeah — us!” Trap chimed in. He peered out the porthole. “What’s he doing now?”

The WHALE had started moving toward us.

“He thinks we’re food and wants to EAT us!” I squeaked at the top of my lungs. “This time, we’re done for!”

“Full speed ahead, Thea!” Sally shouted.

“We’re already at top speed!” my sister replied.

The creature caught up to us in three shakes of a whale’s tail.

But to our great surprise, he didn’t slurp us up in one GULP. Instead he lifted a gigantic fin in front of his eyes and let out a strange whistle.

Fiiiiiiuuuuuuuuuu!

"It seems like he wants to tell us something," Hugo thought.

“Let’s activate the translator I installed to be able to understand alien languages,” Sally suggested.

But I was suspicious.

“A-are you really sure?” I asked. “It could be a setup . . .”

“Uncle, look at those big, sweet eyes!” Benjamin remarked trustingly. And to be honest, if Benjamin wasn’t afraid, why should I be?

Sally’s device began the translation:

“MY NAME IS LUCAS. THANK YOU FOR PULLING THE THORN FROM MY THROAT!”

We all looked at one another, dumbfounded. What thorn was the whale talking about?

But then Trap understood.

“Of course!” he realized. “He’s talking about what you thought was a piece of coral, Geronimo. When I pulled you, it was dislodged from the whale's mouth."

I stepped up to the microphone.

"It's very nice to meet you, Lucas," I replied. "We are SPACEMICE, and we're happy we were able to help you!"

"I'll always owe you, spacemice!" he replied. "Bon voyage!"

We waved from the porthole and the whale winked back at us before he disappeared into the abyss. We had finally made a friend on the strange underwater planet of Aquarix!

AN UNDERWATER CITY

Galactic Gorgonzola, this had been a really difficult trip! Luckily, the map was showing that we were getting closer to our destination. Thea guided the spaceship over a steep reef, around an underwater mountain with sharp peaks, and through a narrow canyon. Finally we reached the point that was marked by an X on the map.

A beautiful city came into view.

"It's so pretty," Benjamin said. "But it's also so D A R K !"

It's true — the few lights in the city seemed to barely illuminate the houses and streets.

Thea gently landed the spaceship outside the gates to the city.

“We’re finally here!” Trap announced. “Come on, everyone. Let’s go! I can’t wait to see if there really is a TREASURE. Then we can get back to the MOUSESTAR 1. Boy, do I miss Cook Squizzy’s lunar cheese fondue!”

I had no desire to get out of the spaceship again, but I knew I had to. So I reluctantly pulled on my helmet and headed for the door.

"I'll wait on the ship," Thea said. "And we'll keep in touch through the helmet microphones."

AN UNDERWATER CITY

1o Here I go!

Sally was already standing by the door, lining everyone up.

“Here we go!” she announced briskly. “Professor Greenfur and I will go last. Trap —

2o

Ha, ha, ha!

OUT! Benjamin and Bugsy Wugsy — OUT! Captain Geronimo Stiltonix — OUT!

3o Oof!

As soon as I stepped outside, I immediately flipped UPSIDE DOWN in the murky water. It took me a while to flip back over and join the others, so I was the last one to arrive at the gate to the underwater city.

“Finally, Captain!” Trap said, rolling his eyes at me. “Now what do we do?”

“I don’t know,” I replied. “Knock?”

No one objected, so I reached out a paw and knocked three times:

Knock! Knock! Knock!

MASTERS OF THE LIGHT

A few moments later, the door opened. Some small, friendly-looking blue aliens greeted us. Each alien had FOUR eyes, eight tentacles, and some unusual PIPES on its head. Tiny bubbles streamed out of the pipes.

“This would be a good time to introduce yourselves,” Thea reminded us through our helmet microphones.

Trap pushed me forward.

“It’s your turn, Captain!” he whispered.

Me? Why, oh why is it always me? Oh, right . . . because I’m the captain!

“Hello! We are spacemice,” I told the aliens. “We come in peace!”

“Nice to meet you!” one of the aliens replied. “We are POLPYX. Welcome to Aquarix City, our capital! If you follow us, we’ll take you to our wise ones!”

“And who are these wise ones?” I asked hesitantly. I hoped they were friendly, too!

“They are our three Masters of the Light.”

Masters of the Light? What in the cosmos were they?

We had no other choice but to follow the polpyx, so we swam after them along the city’s dark streets.

As we passed each little house, other polpyx came out to say hello.

"What nice, friendly aliens," Benjamin remarked. "I could do a paper about this planet for school!"

"That's a great idea!" I agreed.

We soon arrived in a small underwater cavern. The wise ones were three polpyx with thick white beards. Each one held a long stick topped by a small, shiny star.

The wise ones slowly rose and swam toward us. The polpyx that had led us to the cavern whispered something to one of the wise ones. The alien nodded his head.

“Hello, spacemice!” the wise one said in a WELCOMING tone. “We are happy to have you visit. We are a friendly species.”

Then he stopped and another wise one took over.

“We have been living at the bottom of the sea for thousands of years,” the second alien said in a voice that was lower than the first alien’s. “We like to meet new friends from faraway places.”

Finally, the third wise one spoke. His voice was the lowest of all of them.

“Yes, you are most welcome here in AQUARIX CITY,” he agreed. “But please do tell us what brought you all the way down here to the dark abyss."

Before I could reply, Trap stepped forward.

"Excuse me, Captain," he whispered in my ear. "Mind if I speak? Otherwise we'll never get through these pleasantries, and I'm STARVING!"

Before I could protest, my cousin grabbed the sphere with the map from Professor Greenfur's paws and showed it to the polpyx.

"This sphere brought us here!" he announced.

It was the sphere!

A SECRET KEY

When they saw the sphere, the three aliens were speechless. After a moment of silence, they finally spoke:

"I-I . . ."

"C-can't . . ."

"B-believe it!"

Then they began chattering quickly among themselves, ignoring us completely!

Finally, the creatures turned back to us.

"Oh, please forgive us," the first one said.

"We thought this sphere had disappeared forever!" the second one added.

"The last time we saw it was three lunar cycles ago, just before the great tsunami!" the third one concluded.

"How did you find it?" they asked in unison.

“Well, it happened to be on our SPACESHIP,” I replied.

“After we activated it, we decided to follow the map,” Professor Greenfur explained. “We wanted to find out where the sphere had come from!”

The wise ones smiled widely.

“We are extremely grateful to you for this, spacemice!” the first wise one said. “This isn’t just a map — it’s also the secret key to the light chest!”

I didn’t have a clue what they were SQUEAKING about!

The wise ones began mumbling among themselves again.

“Did you understand any of that?” I asked Professor Greenfur.

“I think so,” he murmured. “The stars on top of the sticks they’re carrying look like extremely rare marine cosmostars. They are packed with energy that helps plants grow in really DARK places like this city. Maybe the light chest has something to do with that.”

The second wise one turned back to us.

“That’s correct!” the alien said. “Our civilization has been able to grow down here in the dark abyss thanks to the marine cosmostars.”

“But we only have a few cosmostars left,” the first alien added. “And it’s extremely difficult and dangerous to find new ones!”

“Our ancestors hid an emergency supply of cosmostars in a special chest,” the third alien explained. “They wanted to keep our civilization from using them all up right away. But we thought the key to the chest had been lost forever!”

A SECRET KEY

So the strange blue sphere really was a treasure map! And the treasure was very precious to these aliens and their entire underwater civilization.

“Spacemice, we trust you,” the first wise one said. “Follow us!”

The wise ones
ILLUMINATED the way with their sticks, and we followed
them toward a tall, dark building.

A CHILL ran down my tail. The polpyx seemed friendly, but

Follow us!

I was afraid of the unknown. I turned to Benjamin and Bugsy.

“This could be dangerous,” I told the little mice. “Why don’t you two wait here?” Benjamin was a little disappointed, but two young polpyx came up to us and began to play with him and Bugsy Wugsy right away.

I waved good-bye and entered the tall building with the others.

UNEXPECTED VISITORS

We followed the Masters of the Light all the way to a great hall.

“There it is!” the second wise one exclaimed, pointing to a big chest in the center of the room.

As soon as we got closer to the chest, the sphere began to shine!

“The sphere is letting us know that we have reached the ultimate destination,” the first wise one explained.

We all stepped closer to the chest, eager to see what was inside.

“Let’s hurry up and open it!” Trap said impatiently. “I’m so curious, and my tummy’s really grumbling!”

Then he stepped up to the chest and placed the sphere in one of the two round openings in the middle.

We all held our breath, waiting to hear the clicking sound of the lock. Instead, the chest projected a blue ray of light that spelled out this message:

"The chest of light will open for you.
Just place the second sphere here, too!"

The wise ones shook their heads.

"There are two keys!" the third one said.
"Our ancestors created two spheres, but both were lost!"

We were all disappointed.

"Then we came all this way for NoThiNg?"
Sally asked sadly.

Before anyone could reply, we heard a cackle behind us.

"Oh, this is going to be good!"

We all turned around.

Black holey galaxies: It was Black Star, captain of the Pirate spacecats!

How did I recognize him, you might ask? It's simple: Every mouse in the cheddar Galaxy knows about the terrible pirate spacecats and their ruthless captain, Black Star. Plus, he has a big black star on his forehead! The pirate spacecats love to invade different planets and steal whatever precious treasures they can find. They're feared across the galaxy!

I tried to contact Thea immediately. But my helmet microphone seemed to be on mute.

UNEXPECTED VISITORS

“Don’t even THINK about trying to contact your spaceship, Captain,” Black Star growled into my ear. “It’s no use.”

Then he motioned to a particularly vicious-looking member of his crew. The spacecat brought in someone who looked very familiar: It was Thea, and she was TIED up!

MOUSEY METEORITES!

The pirates had captured her!

BLACK STAR

Captain of the pirate spacecats

Species: Feline

Specialty: Attacking alien planets to hunt for riches and treasures

Characteristics: He’s cold-blooded, but has aristocratic manners.

Defining Features: A black star on his forehead and foul breath that stinks like moldy sardines

HOW SHOULD I PUT IT?

“Let her go right now, you putrid and pugnacious pirates!”

Trap shouted.

“Huh?” asked the spacecat.

Black Star rolled his eyes.

“He wants you to release the prisoner,” he told his crew member. Then he turned to Trap. “There’s no need to yell big words. We didn’t come to this awful planet to get our tails wet with you, spacemice. Let her go, Galaxia!”

As soon as the spacecat untied her, Thea filled us in on what had happened.

“Those pirates took me by complete surprise,” she explained. “I didn’t have time to sound the ALARM. And I’m afraid they may have destroyed our spaceship!”

“Quiet!” Black Star growled. Then he reached into his bag for something.

Holey craters, what was that? A lunar laser? A stellar space sword? A meteorite slingshot?

I covered my eyes with my paws. Good-bye, universe! I thought.

Thank goodmouse I was wrong: Black Star pulled out the second sphere!

“Were you looking for this?” Looking for this? he asked with a sneer.

The wise ones were shocked.

“H-how did you get that?” the third one asked.

HOW SHOULD I PUT IT?

“Calm down, calm down, no need to get excited,” Black Star began. “The story is SIMPLE: I was returning from one of our — how should I put it? — one of our sightseeing voyages . . .”

At that, the other spacecats burst out laughing.

“Ha, ha, ha!” they chuckled. “Sightseeing! That’s a good one, Captain!”

“QUIET!” Black Star yowled. “How many times do I have to tell you not to interrupt me?”

HA.HA.HA

The four pirates immediately quieted down.

“Now, where was I?” Black Star continued. “Ah, yes. We were coming back from a VOYAGE in the galaxy and I was going through all the objects that the nice aliens we met had — how should I put it? — given to us . . .”

“Ha, ha, ha!” the spacecats burst out. “Given to us! Where do you come up with such funny JOKES, Captain?”

“Quillieeeeet!” Black Star roared again. “The next one who meows without authorization will stay here underwater — forever!”

Trembling with fear, the four pirates quieted down again.

“As I was saying,” Black Star continued, “I found this MYSTERIOUS sphere

HOW SHOULD I PUT IT?

among the various objects we had collected. I didn't know what it was, but the other day it suddenly started to shine. It revealed a map that led the way to Aquarix, and now here we are!"

"Of course!" Professor Greenfur exclaimed. "When Captain Stiltonix activated our sphere, the second sphere was activated as well!"

"Do you mean the spheres are designed to force the owners of each object to meet up?" Trap asked.

"Yes, exactly!" Professor Greenfur confirmed. "And the two spheres have to come together in order to open the chest."

"Well said, spacemouse!" Black Star said. He extended his PAW, and his SHARP claws glistened in the seawater. Then he tapped poor Professor Greenfur's helmet.

Click! Click! Click!

“Now please tell me, what do I need to do to open this chest?” he asked with a polite growl.

Professor Greenfur Shook like a leaf.

“I . . . w-well . . . s-so . . .” the professor stuttered.

Then the first wise one spoke up.

“Place the second sphere . . .”

“In the second opening . . .” the second wise one continued.

“And the chest will open!” concluded the third wise one.

“Thank you, little aliens!” Black Star purred happily. He knew it didn’t hurt to use good manners, even if he was stealing something that didn’t belong to him!

GRAB THE TREASURE!

All we could do was watch the pirate insert the sphere into the chest.

clack!

The key clicked into place and the chest opened up.

A blinding light lit up the room. Black Star had to cover his eyes with his paw as he peered inside.

“Mouse skulls and fish bones!” he exclaimed happily. “There are dozens of cosmostars in here! I’ll sell these all over the galaxy, and then I’ll be rich!”

Then he turned to his crew.

“Come on, Galaxia,” Black Star said to one of the pirates. “Get moving, flea face. Grab the treasure and load it onto our spaceship.”

Then he gave the rest of us a threatening look.

“If you stay here quietly, I’ll leave you alone,” he hissed menacingly. “I won’t pull a single hair out of your fur before I leave with the treasure. But if you try to stop me . . .”

“Th-then what?” I asked, my whiskers trembling.

He showed off his sharp, shiny claws.

GRAB THE TREASURE!

“Then you can kiss your fur good-bye, spacemice!”

No one had the COURAGE to move a muscle. But even if we had been brave enough to try to stop the pirates, what could we have done? The citizens of Aquarix were peaceful creatures, and there were many more spacecats than there were spacemice. We had to SAVE OUR FUR!

So we watched helplessly as the pirates loaded the big chest onto a trailer that was tied to their spaceship.

Just before he closed the door to the spaceship, Black Star turned back to us.

“Oh, how RUDE of me!” he purred. “I almost forgot to thank you! It was a pleasure doing business with you. Hope to see you all again soon! Ha, ha, ha, ha, ha!”

Then the spaceship door slid closed and the spacecats took off in a swirl of bubbles and sand.

The wise ones were devastated.

“Our precious cosmostars!” the first one moaned.

“They are lost forever,” the second one said sadly.

“What are we going to do now?” the third one asked.

GRAB THE TREASURE!

I felt AWFUL. We had been so close to helping the polpyx get their cosmostars back, but instead we had unwittingly led the pirates right to the treasure!

As we watched the pirates' spaceship zoom farther and farther away, a strong current made me lose my balance.

"Look up!" Thea shouted.

It was Lucas, the gigantic silverix whale we had met during our trip. He had emerged from behind a rock and was now following the pirate spaceship!

UNEXPECTED HELP

Something FLASHED by me. Wait, had I seen that correctly? I looked again. Martian mozzarella! Benjamin and Buggy Wuggy were holding on to Lucas's fin!

The whale reached the pirate's spaceship in three quick tail flaps. Then Lucas grabbed the spaceship in his gigantic fangs and shook it from left to right and UP and down. I wouldn't have wanted to be in the pirates' fur: They must have been feeling very SEASICK!

A moment later . . . snap!

The rope that was pulling the trailer with the chest broke, and the pirates' spaceship took off at high speed.

I got a glimpse of Black Star's face in the porthole. He was growling angrily.

Great galaxies! The spacecats were gone! I hoped I never saw those ferocious felines again.

Lucas swam back to us and gently placed the chest in front of me. Then he very DELICATELY lowered Benjamin and Bugsy Wugsy from his fin. The rest of us rushed over to the mouselings, greeting them with ENORMOUSE hugs.

"Well done!" I told them. "How did you do it?"

It happened like this . . .

"We were out playing with some polpyx when we saw the pirates' spaceship, so we hid," Benjamin explained. "When we realized what the spacecats were up to,

Bugsy Wugsy had the idea to ask Lucas for his help.”

“Amazing!” Sally said.

“Without you two, the treasure would have been lost forever!” Thea added. “And thank you, too, Lucas!”

FiiiiiiiiiiHHHHHHH!

The whale let out one of his whistles. Sally’s invention translated for us:

“It was my pleasure, spacemice!”

Lucas waved good-bye with one fin while Sally helped the polpyx get their chest back. We all gathered around the chest and admired the precious cosmostars that glowed so brightly in the dark abyss.

The three wise ones approached me.

“Captain Stiltonix, the creatures of Aquarix City thank you for coming here and helping us find our cosmostars,” the first one said.

“They are essential to the SURVIVAL of our species!” the second wise one added.

“According to our customs, when another creature finds something of ours, he has the right to keep half of it,” the third wise one told us.

Trap’s eyes lit up greedily.

“Oh, that’s so kind of you —”

“But of course we cannot accept!” I interrupted, finishing my cousin’s sentence for him. “We know how important these stars are to you and your planet. They belong here, not with us!”

As we turned to leave, I looked back at Aquarix City: The polpyx’s capital was now shining brightly thanks to the cosmostars. What a warm and welcoming place!

Our mission had been a great success!

Ha, ha, ha!

Ho, ho, ho!

Yay!

A NEW MISSION

It seemed as though our adventure was coming to an end. But we were all in for a surprise.

“Captain, look!” Professor Greenfur called. I approached the pirates’ trailer and leaned over to peek inside. I was astounded: It was full of other precious things that had been STOLEN from all over the universe!

“Ohhhhhhh!” Trap gasped. His beady, greedy little eyes lit up. “We were looking for one treasure, but we found hundreds of other treasures!”

He draped a golden pearl necklace around his neck and cradled a fancy chrome blender in his paws.

“We can take this back to MOUSESTAR 1,” he continued. “I’m sure Cook Squizzy could use it for his triple cheese shakes!”

“Put those down, Trap!” Thea scolded him. “I’m sorry to disappoint you, but these objects were STOLEN by the pirates and must be RETURNED to their legitimate owners.”

Professor Greenfur nodded.

“I already did a quick estimate, and these objects come from at least seven different galaxies!”

I almost fainted.

You know what that meant, right? It meant that instead of going back to the MOUSESTAR 1, we would be traveling around for days — who am I kidding — for weeks, months, or even YEARS returning those precious things!

But that's an adventure for another time, my friends.
